

After an absence of several years, the NZ Women's Snooker Championships were once again being played. A small field of 8 gathered at the ACBS clubrooms in Auckland to do battle and it was Ramona Belmont (Southland) who emerged victorious with a comfortable 3 - 0 win over Nita Clarkson (Auckland) in the final. Esa Martin (Hawkes Bay) won the 3rd place play-off over Siloti Maher (Auckland) and the Plate event was won by Bernie Johnson 2 - 1 over Maku Belmont.

The high break of the event was a very fine 78 by Ramona in section play.
